North Miami, FL, April 4, 2014 – Industry leading inflatable boat dealer BoatsToGo.com would like to announce that their high quality 12' inflatable SUPs are now on sale for incredibly low prices that are approximately half the manufacturer's suggested retail price (MSRP). Starting at just $599, these inflatable boats are priced to sell.

According to BoatsToGo president Eliot, "You will not find prices on 12' inflatable paddle boards like these anywhere else on the market today. We have inventory we need to move, and we have priced these SUPs to sell."

These top of the line inflatable Saturn SUPS are available on BoatsToGo.com in both the 12 ft Heavy-Duty SOT365 model and the 11 ft SOT330 model to fit the needs of anyone looking to purchase a new inflatable paddle board. Plus, each inflatable SUP come with Saturn's amazing 2 year warranty, plus a free air pump and carry bag.

These inflatable SUPs get their heavy-duty name from the material they are made out of. As the first in the industry to offer 6" thick drop-stitch fabric, Saturn inflatable SUPs are built to handle anything the water may throw at them. These inflatable paddle boards have also been built with 0.9mm fabric on both sides to further prevent rips and punctures, making them as safe as any inflatable SUP on the market today.

"Another incredibly unique feature of our Saturn inflatable paddle boards is that they can also be used as sit-top kayaks," says Eliot. "The Saturn SOT330 can be used as a one-man kayak and the SOT365 can be used as a 1-2 man kayak. This means our clients are buying two different types of inflatable boats for the price of one. Actually, the price of half of one with this sale."

These inflatable SUPs are designed to let you explore all different types of water, from lakes, to rivers, to bays. They have also risen in popularity over the past few years because they have been proven to provide an incredible total body workout.
